FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Danos Awarded Integrated Warehouse Contract for Gulf of America Operations

GRAY, La. – Danos LLC has been awarded a multi-year integrated warehousing services contract by Shell Exploration & Production Company to support its onshore and offshore operations in the Gulf of America.

Under the agreement, Danos will provide integrated warehouse services across Shell's operational facilities, including warehouse management, materials handling, inventory control, preservation and maintenance activities, and related operational support services. The contract includes a three-year base term with two optional one-year extensions and began June 1, 2026, with full operations launched by September 1st.

"This award represents a meaningful milestone for our organization and reflects the trust Shell has placed in our team," said Paul Danos, CEO. "It underscores our strength as a leading third-party logistics and materials management provider in the energy industry. We remain committed to delivering safe, reliable operations, innovative warehouse solutions and measurable long-term value to our customers."

The award further strengthens Danos' integrated supply chain capabilities and reflects continued investment in operational excellence and technology-driven warehouse management systems designed to enhance efficiency, visibility, and service delivery.

Danos will begin transition and readiness activities immediately to support a seamless startup and long-term execution of Shell's warehousing and materials management requirements.
